MULTI-TASKING ROOMS

As luxury hotels try to make their rooms more like our homes, bedrooms are, in return, becoming more like those in luxury hotels. For many, the convenience of having everything in one neat space is an appealing prospect.

The bedroom of this house in the south of France by Samantha Todhunter (www.samanthatodhunter.com) includes all the best elements of bedroom, sitting room and bathroom in one. The armchairs are covered in 'La Fiorentina', from the David Hicks by Ashley Hicks collection for Groundworks, at Lee Jofa (www.leejofa.com).

In the main bedroom of this London flat, MICHAEL S SMITH has used a shagreen-covered screen to separate the bedroom from the wardrobes, dressing room and bathroom beyond. A flat-screen television is mounted on the chimney breast. ▶
